

Intro to Web Design and Computer Principles

Final Project - Wireframing

The URL to my page in the general form of i6.cims.nyu.edu/~netid/:

<https://i6.cims.nyu.edu/~eyt8724/>

Wireframing

Once you've decided what your professionally-oriented website will be about, write a paragraph of at least 100 words describing your topic and how it will be presented on the web.

My professionally-oriented website is going to be about my resume because I want to be able to show what I have done in the past and what kind of skills I am able to demonstrate to future employers. I love web design so much and I feel like I could add a bit more character to my resume by making my own website for it. The general set up I have in mind is two pages: one main page containing some of the roles I have been involved with that has been expanded upon (in detail) and one page showing some of my hobbies and what I look forward to in the future.

The wireframing can be found in the PDF called "Frame Resume Layout.pdf"